and nationally observed holidays. After this initial three-day period, the tuition deposit of $1,000 is non-refundable. If mitigating circumstances prevent attendance of the selected date of enrollment, we postpone attendance until the next available starting date. We will only move your deposit one time.

The first week begins on the first day of class and is week number one. Each consecutive week of the program begins at 12:01 a.m. Sunday morning, regardless of the attendance of an individual student. (For instance, if a student misses the entire third week and returns the following week, it is still counted as week number four). Depending on when holidays fall, classes may be cancelled for more than one day. This is to allow those students who wish to go home for the holidays the opportunity to do so. All training facilities will be open and available to students who do not wish to leave for the holidays.

To withdraw, you must submit a written withdrawal form to the admissions officer. Any applicable refund of tuition is computed as of the date the withdrawal form was received and signed by admissions. For those students utilizing VA benefits, a refund will be computed by the VA and refunded accordingly.

All outstanding balances owed by the student (such as rent, utilities, damages, merchandise) are deducted from the refund.
