TRS History

Since 1979, the Tom Rose School, LLC has certified dog trainers from all over the world. Our hands on programs are updated consistently to reflect the everchanging industry that is dog training, while still including the same core principles that Tom came up with 45 years ago that hold strong to this day. We pride ourselves on giving students the most up to date methodology and techniques available to dog trainers. Dog training is an art form and is not a one-size-fits-all career or hobby. Each dog and case in front of you brings its own valuable learning experience, and the hands on learning you get at TRS takes your learning to the next level.

TRS Objectives

The TRS objective is to prepare our students to understand and read dogs, how they think and learn, work with pet dogs, aggressive dogs, fearful dogs, police dogs, service dogs, dog sports and be able to compete at high levels in national trials, international trials and events. In addition, we teach our students how to start and operate their own successful dog training business and clientele interaction.

TRS Instructional Methods

TRS students learn through classroom lectures, power points, video presentations, demonstrations and extensive supervised hands-on training, students gain expert knowledge on how dogs think and learn, a variety of different training techniques, theories, and how and when to apply them.

In 2008, Hayssam attended the Tom Rose School where he honed his skills and gained invaluable knowledge in the field. After he graduated with honors from the Masters program, he went back to Lebanon and started training pet dogs, police dogs, military dogs and formed the K-9 unit for the United Nations (ESCWA) in Beirut, Lebanon.

1) Veterans Benefits and Transition Act of 2018

S. 2248 with a Roe amendment in the nature of a substitute

Title I – Education

Sec. 101. Inclusion of certain additional periods of active duty service for purposes of suspension of charges to entitlement during periods of suspended participation in Department of Veterans Affairs Vocational Rehabilitation Programs: This provision would amend title 38, U.S.C., so that when a reservist receiving vocational rehabilitation program assistance is mobilized in support of a national emergency or a preplanned operational mission, any period of training in which they do not receive credit for that training because of the mobilization will not be counted against their overall use of the vocational rehabilitation program benefit.

Sec. 102. Provision of monthly housing stipend information under post-9/11 Educational Assistance Program: This provision would require the Secretary to provide electronic proof to a veteran that they will be receiving housing payments from VA under the GI Bill ® as a source of income so that the veteran can provide this proof to a landlord when applying to rent a home.

Sec. 103. Disapproval for purposes of educational assistance programs of Department of Veterans Affairs of certain courses of education that do not permit individuals to attend or participate in courses pending payment: This provision would require that in order for a school or training program to be approved for GI Bill ® benefits they must adopt a policy that disallows the school or training program from imposing a late fee, denial of access to facilities, or other penalty against a veteran or eligible dependent due to a late payment of tuition and/or fees from VA. This would only apply if the payments have not been received within 90 days of the beginning of the term and the Secretary would have the authority to waive this requirement. Schools would be allowed to require students to provide documentation to ensure that they are entitled to GI Bill ® benefits.

The restriction on penalties would not apply in cases where the student owes additional payment to the school beyond the amount of the tuition and fee payment from VA to the school. VA would have to make payments to schools no later than 60 days after receiving the tuition and fee certification from the school, and they would have to report semiannually to Congress any cases in which VA fails to make such payments within 60 days of certification.

Sec. 104. Provision of information on required additional actions to allow individuals to stay enrolled in courses of education pending receipt of educational assistance from Department of Veterans Affairs: This provision would require that VA provide information on the GI Bill ® comparison tool for schools that require additional documentation to provide protection against adverse action against a student due to a late payment of tuition and/or fees from VA.

Sec. 105. Calculation of monthly housing stipend under high technology pilot program based on location of campus where veteran attends classes: This provision would provide a technical change to section 116 of the Harry W. Colmery Veterans Educational Assistance Act of 2017 to align the policy for calculation of the monthly housing allowance paid to students participating in the VET-TEC pilot to align with section 107 of the law which requires VA to calculate the housing payments based on where the student was taking the majority of their classes.

Sec. 106. Clarification regarding applicability of authority to use educational assistance to pursue independent study programs at certain educational institutions that are not institutions of higher learning: This provision would provide a technical amendment to the title of section 302 of the Harry W. Colmery Veterans Educational Assistance Act of 2017, which provides increased flexibility to use GI Bill ® funds for independent study, to ensure that flexibility extends to all GI Bill ® programs and not just the Post-
